PART III — NARRATIVE

State below in reasonable detail the reasons why Forms 10-K, 20-F, 11-K, 10-Q, 10-D, N-SAR, N-CSR, or the transition report or portion thereof, could not be filed within the prescribed time period. (Attach extra Sheets if Needed)

Black Box Corporation (the "Company") did not file its Annual Report on Form 10-K ("Form 10-K") for the fiscal year ended March 31, 2007 by May 30, 2007, the required filing date, and such Form 10-K may not be filed on or before the fifteenth calendar day following the required filing date. The Company plans to file its Form 10-K for the fiscal year ended March 31, 2007 as soon as practicable.

As previously announced, the Audit Committee of the Board of Directors of the Company, with the assistance of outside legal counsel, is conducting an independent review of the Company's historical stock option grant practices and related accounting for stock option grants. That review has included all stock option grants since 1992. At this time, that review is substantially complete, although the Audit Committee has not yet finalized its findings and certain matters, such as determining any remedial action and recommendations for improving the Company's stock option granting practices, remain to be completed.

On March 20, 2007, the Company announced that, although the review of stock option practices was ongoing, Company management and the Audit Committee expected that the Company's additional non-cash, pre-tax charges for stock-based compensation expense relating to certain stock option grants would approximate $63 million for the period under review. At that time, Company management and the Audit Committee announced that they had concluded that the Company would need to restate its previously-issued financial statements contained in reports previously filed by the Company with the Securities and Exchange Commission (the "SEC"). In addition, Company management and the Audit Committee announced that the Company's previously-issued financial statements and other historical financial information and related disclosures for the period under review, including applicable reports of its current or former independent registered public accounting firms and related press releases, should not be relied upon.

As a result of the ongoing review of stock option practices, Company management and the Audit Committee now currently expect that the Company's additional non-cash, pre-tax charges for stock-based compensation expense relating to certain stock option grants will approximate $70 million for the period under review.

In addition, due to the fact that the review is not yet completed, and due to the allocation of Company personnel and resources to the review of the Company's stock option grant practices, the audit of the Company's financial statements for the fiscal year ended March 31, 2007 has not been completed, and such audit may not be completed in time to permit the Company to file its Form 10-K for the fiscal year ended March 31, 2007 on or before the fifteenth calendar day following the required filing date.

As soon as practicable following the completion of the Audit Committee's review and completion of the audit of the Company's financial statements for the fiscal year ended March 31, 2007, the Company will file its Form 10-K for the fiscal year ended March 31, 2007. As previously announced, as soon as practicable following the completion of the Audit Committee's review, the Company will file its Quarterly Report on Form 10-Q ("Form 10-Q") for the quarter ended December 30, 2006, and any necessary restatements and amended filings.

This Form 12b-25 contains "forward-looking statements" under the Private Securities Litigation Reform Act of 1995 including those that involve risks and uncertainties related to the review by the Audit Committee, the restatement of the Company's financial statements, the filing of delinquent reports on Form 10-K and Form 10-Q and the potential filing with the SEC of necessary restatements and amended filings. Any forward-looking statements contained in this release are made pursuant to the safe harbor provisions of the Private Securities Litigation Reform Act of 1995. You can identify these forward-looking statements by the fact they use words such as "should," "anticipate," "estimate," "approximate," "expect," "target," "may," "will," "project," "intend," "plan," "believe" and other words of similar meaning and expression. One can also identify forward-looking statements by the fact that they do not relate strictly to historical or current facts. Forward-looking statements are inherently subject to a variety of risks and uncertainties that could cause actual results to differ materially from those projected. Although it is not possible to predict or identify all risk factors, they may include the timing of the completion and results of the independent review of the Company's stock option grant practices by the Audit Committee. We can give no assurance that any goal, plan, date or target set forth in forward-looking statements can be achieved and readers are cautioned not to place undue reliance on such statements, which speak only as of the date made. We undertake no obligation to release publicly any revisions to forward-looking statements as a result of future events or developments.
